The Gross Regional Product (GRP) has shown a consistent upward trend from 2019 to 2023. In 2019, the GRP was recorded at 244.28 billion, and it experienced a slight increase to 244.82 billion in 2020. This period marked the beginning of a more significant growth phase, as the GRP rose to 268.87 billion in 2021. The upward trajectory continued with the GRP reaching 296.68 billion in 2022, and further climbing to 308.71 billion in 2023. This steady growth over the five-year period highlights the region's economic resilience and potential for future expansion.
