

The Gross Regional Product (GRP) of San Diego County from 2019 to 2023 demonstrates a consistent upward trend, reflecting economic growth over this period. In 2019, the GRP was approximately $244.28 billion, with a per capita GRP of $73,346.92, calculated by dividing the total GRP by the population of 3,330,458. The following year, 2020, saw a slight increase in GRP to approximately $244.82 billion. Despite a decrease in population to 3,296,045, the per capita GRP rose to $74,277.60, suggesting an increase in economic output per person, possibly due to productivity gains or shifts in industry contributions. The year 2021 marked a significant increase in GRP to approximately $268.87 billion, with the per capita GRP jumping to $82,099.95, even as the population slightly decreased to 3,274,954. This indicates a robust economic recovery or expansion, likely driven by key industries. In 2022, the GRP continued to grow, reaching approximately $296.68 billion, and the per capita GRP increased to $90,557.10, with a stable population of 3,276,208. This reflects strong economic performance and possibly increased investment or innovation in the region. By 2023, the GRP further increased to approximately $308.71 billion, and the per capita GRP reached $94,915.87, with a population of 3,252,468. This continued growth suggests sustained economic development and resilience in the face of potential challenges. Overall, San Diego County's GRP has shown consistent growth from 2019 to 2023, with a notable increase in per capita GRP each year. The economic expansion is likely supported by key industries such as Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services, Manufacturing, and Government, which have shown strong performance in the region. The increase in per capita GRP, despite fluctuations in population, indicates improved economic productivity and possibly higher value-added activities within the county. This analysis highlights San Diego County's economic resilience and growth potential over the analyzed period.
